BEYOND THE WALLS

What Happens Here Doesn't Stay Here

BECAUSE WE HAVE FAITH

Well I guess we've just about seen it all. Christmas, New Year's and the feast of the Epiphany in lockdown. A Roman Catholic church, celebrating the birth of Christ with no one in attendance. There was no one there to witness this most special 'Christmas miracle'. No one there to greet Him or welcome Him. Just like that night, two thousand years ago. It was dark. It was quiet. It was special. It just was.

Thank you Lord for the gift of modern technology. Because of that gift, everyone within technological reach didn't miss a thing! We saw it! We celebrated it! We cherished the moment! It was almost as if nothing changed at all! Those from our parish or community who were not able to watch our LIVE Streamed masses or any mass at all online still felt it. They celebrated His birth because of their faith and because of their ability to know and understand that Christmas comes every year, regardless of whether we can see it physically or not. It is real! There are thousands of years of history that we cannot physically see, but that doesn't change our beliefs or our love of God, because we have faith.

We have spent months practicing faith over fear, so a little thing like a lockdown at Christmastime wasn't going to shake that resolve. It is rock steady and solid!

Thousands and thousands of people viewed the many online masses that were streamed on Christmas, including us. We all tuned in, watched, listened, prayed and celebrated together. Nothing can replace receiving the body and blood of Christ in person. Spiritual Communion creates a hunger and thirst to return to the table of the Eucharist when it is safe to do so!

We celebrate Christmas to remember the birth of Christ, the Son of God from no matter where we are, both in proximity and in life. The message remains clear and the same; that where there is hope, love, light and life, God's plan and purpose of is also present. A church is a building, and if we're going to reach not only those who come to church, but also those who don't – whether it is because of lockdown or distance, both physical and spiritual – then we must go beyond our walls and meet them where they are. That's Church.

De Mazenod Door Outreach

The Poor • The Marginalized • The Inner-City Youth

In the midst of a lockdown the true sense of community was shining brilliantly at the De Mazenod Door just as Fr. Jarek spoke about noticing the stars around us. We have some true gems here, both inside and outside the De Mazenod Door.

We would have to take a whole page just to acknowledge all those who, over the past 2 weeks, stepped up to make this Christmas & New Years Day extra special for everyone at the Door. Whether they were inside prepping for the day, or out in the cold greeting each guest with a friendly smile, the atmosphere was that of hope. We know that there is a dark cloud of COVID lurking, but we will not live in fear! We will choose not to forget those who are struggling.

Our guests were very appreciative and expressed gratitude towards our volunteers, staff and other guests, but they also extended many well wishes of 'God Bless You'. One fellow commented by saying 'I began my 2021 with a full belly, it's going to be a good year'!

We thank everyone for their prayers, time, talents and treasures!

VOCATION REFLECTION

BAPTISM: A CALL TO 'NEWNESS' AND 'MISSION'

Today we celebrate the feast of the Baptism of the Lord. In today's Gospel, we hear John the Baptist contrast his baptism of repentance with the baptism that Jesus will inaugurate. John the Baptist says that he has baptized with water, but that the one who is to come will baptize with the Holy Spirit. In accepting John's baptism, Jesus, though sinless, united himself with all sinners. The descent of the Holy Spirit on Jesus at his baptism shows that something new is beginning through the baptism and ministry of Jesus. First, every time I read this gospel passage I am reminded of the "newness" and "identity" this sacrament brings to all of us. We become a new creature, share in His divine nature, and become His adopted children – our identity: "Baptism not only purifies from all sins but also makes the neophyte "a new creature," an adopted son of God, who has become a "partaker of the divine nature," member of Christ and co-heir with him, and a temple of the Holy Spirit" (CCC 1265).

Second, Jesus' baptism is a turning point in his life. With this event, he is 'anointed' by the spirit and formally inaugurates his mission as Messiah. By sharing in Israel's baptism of repentance, Jesus has committed himself fully to the Father's call on his life: to be the obedient servant and do the will of his father. Mark's Gospel moves quickly from the report of Jesus' baptism to Jesus' temptations in the desert to his ministry in Galilee (MK 1: 14-15) after John's arrest. The Greek word arrested (paradidomi) literally means "handed over." The end of the ministry of John the Baptist is the beginning of Jesus' ministry.

Through baptism, we are 'handed over' this mission of Christ. Analogously, our Baptism inaugurates our mission as Christians. Our baptism empowers all of us to take part in the ministry of Christ to preach this good news of love and salvation to all. The Second Vatican Council Decree on the Apostolate of the Laity, Apostolicam Actuositatem, stresses that there is really one vocation in the Christian life, and that is to share in the mission and ministry of Jesus Christ. This feast of the baptism of our Lord reminds us of this unique and personal Christian vocation and our role as members of His body, the Church. We are sent forth from the baptismal waters to "walk always as a child of light" and keep the flame of faith alive in our hearts. We are called to witness to our baptisms in our lives.

May today's solemnity be a favorable opportunity for us to rediscover with joy the beauty of their own Baptism, which is an ever-timely reality if it is lived with faith: it ceaselessly renews within us the image of the new person, in holiness of thought and action. May the Virgin Mary obtain for us an ever-deeper understanding of the value of our Baptism and witness to it by leading a dignified life.

REST & HYGIENE STATION HAS RE-OPENED

In response to the lockdown, we have re-opened the Rest & hygiene Station out of the back of our church. This is in an effort to provide access to basic necessities, such as use of the restroom, light refreshments and rest, to the vulnerable and marginalized in our community. During lockdown, we are open 7 days a week from 2-5 PM.

This effort would not be possible without the help of volunteers. If you are interested in helping us with this outreach ministry, please call our office or contact dqulldon@stpatrickshamilton.ca and jasuncion@stpatrickshamilton.ca

We are also accepting monetary donations so that we can maintain the heating, lights and refreshments that we provide during our hours of operation. Alternatively, we are accepting donations of new hygiene products (i.e. toothpaste/toothbrush, deodorant, shampoo, soap, feminine hygiene products, etc.), new socks (for men and women) and new underwear (for men and women).

Thank you in advance for your support and generosity!

FOSTER/ADOPTION INFORMATION WEBINAR
